Books: A Question Asked. Why Is It That Other Houses-Claiming to Match Our Prices-Charge $1.08 for the Books We Sell at 98c.?

Answered: They Have a Compact with the Book Trust

Force the Public to Pay the Profit Dictated by the Publishers. We Sell Popular Fiction at 98c. a Volume, and in Doing So Realize Our Regular Percentage of Profit.

But don't use Books to gauge the difference between our prices and the prices elsewhere.

The savings we afford on other lines are much greater. Take novelties, for example—we frequently charge one-half what other stores ask.

Strike a fair average, based on your own knowledge, gained by general shopping, and figure out how much you may save during the year by limiting your patronage to Macy's instead of stores that sell on credit.
